BILL SUMMARY

Synopsis: Senate Bill 384 amends the Campaign Reporting Act, NMSA 1978, Section 1-19-25 to -37 (1979 and as amended), by adding new sections that acknowledge and regulate the ways in which campaigns are currently financed. It (1) requires persons making an “independent expenditure” or “covered transfer” in an amount that exceeds $1,000 to report that activity to the Secretary of State within a designated period; (2) requires persons making a campaign expenditure, coordinated expenditure or independent expenditure for advertisements in an amount that exceeds $3,000 to make certain disclaimer statements and list the “top three funders” for the advertisement; and (3) defines independent expenditures and defines and provides examples of and coordinated expenditures.

SB 384 adds new definitions to Section 1-19-26 of the Campaign Reporting Act for “advertisement,” “ballot measure,” “campaign expenditure,” “coordinated expenditure,” “covered transfer,” “independent expenditure,” and “political party.” It also amends the current definitions of “political committee” and “political purpose.” SB 384 would require political committees to appoint and maintain a treasurer and file a statement of organization within 3 days of receiving, contributing or expending $1,000. Political committees located in other States and registered with the Federal Election Commission would no longer be excepted from this filing requirement.

SB 384 addresses the problem of “covered transfers”, where nonprofit or other groups may seek to avoid disclosures by transferring funds for expenditures intended to affect elections from one group to another. The bill will require relevant disclosures involving such “covered transfers”.

SB 384 extends until midnight the time for filing reports of all expenditures made, contributions made or received on certain dates, including independent expenditures made after 5:00 pm on the Friday before a primary or general election, expenditures made and contributions made or received on or before the 30th day after a primary election, and expenditures made and contributions made or received on or before the 25th day after the general election and not previously reported. SB 384 would also require campaign committees and political committees, like candidates, to file reports of expenditures and contributions pursuant to the filing schedules set forth therein, regardless of whether any expenditures were made or contributions received during the reporting period. SB 384 would increase the civil penalty that may be imposed for each violation that involves unlawful solicitation or the making or acceptance of an unlawful contribution from $250 to $1,000 and for each violation of any provision of the Campaign Reporting Act from $50 to $1,000, and for a total not to exceed $20,000 (up from $5,000) under each provision.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS May result in indeterminate expenditures to the AGO, as the AGO is authorized, with or without a referral for the Secretary of State, to institute a civil action for violations or to prevent violations of the Campaign Reporting Act.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

1. Whether to address recent court decisions that have invalidated key parts of NM's campaign reporting laws, and to do so with disclosure requirements that appear to be in conformity with applicable and relevant court rulings in the 10th Circuit and other jurisdictions around the country. The disclosure requirements in the bill seem designed specifically to address the controversial Citizens United decision of the U.S. Supreme Court, which allowed corporations and other entities to make election-related expenditures but also indicated that the best available safeguard to address such expenditures was to require full disclosure of their sources of funds.
2. Whether to require third-party independent groups that make expenditures affecting election campaigns to disclose contributions and expenditure in a manner consistent with the disclosures required of candidates and political parties.

PERFORMANCE IMPLICATIONS May result in increase to the civil caseload of the AGO if cases are referred by the Secretary of State or the AG determines that violations of the Campaign Reporting Act have occurred or may occur.

ADMINISTRATIVE IMPLICATIONS See above.

CONFLICT, DUPLICATION, COMPANIONSHIP, RELATIONSHIP None at this time

TECHNICAL ISSUES

1. Given the amendments in Section 11 regarding civil penalties, would it not be best to combine subsections B and C since the new penalties ($1,000 per violation to a maximum of $20,000) will now apply to all violations of the of the Act, whereas in the current law the penalties differ for (i) unlawful solicitation and the making or acceptance of an unlawful contribution (current subsection B), and (ii) all other violations of the Act (current subsection C)?
2. The definition of "political purpose" in the new proposed amendment to Subsection S of

1-19-26, DEFINITIONS, uses the word “purpose” in the definition itself. Query: should that be revised so that it reads instead “political purpose” means an attempt to support or oppose the nomination or election. . .”?

OTHER SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES None.

ALTERNATIVES None.

WHAT WILL BE THE CONSEQUENCES OF NOT ENACTING THIS BILL Status quo. Ambiguity and probable unlawful provisions in law as to various campaign reporting requirements and uncertainty and lack of coverage over what constitutes independent or coordinated expenditures.

AMENDMENTS None.
